

EVERYTHING IS POSSIBLE®

EVS Environmental Project

MEXICO

“Volunteering was one the best decisions I’ve ever made.”

Adam

the project

The project offers environmental education Camps to children and young people from 6 to 16 years old. These young people are from the city and from vulnerable nearby communities. This is to generate the interest in children and youth to take care of nature, through different recreational activities.

During the year: the volunteer will organise ecological activities for groups of children coming from different school including reforestation and environmental workshops.

Summertime: organizing summer environmental education Camps as well as green weeks in which the children have workshops on art and recycling, play different sports such as soccer, basket ball, volley ball, they participate in a mini olympics, ecological rally, etc.
